The only thing I need to say about this soundtrack is to make this observation.

Phyrnna (the creator of the OST) is credited right next to Matt's own name as one of the first things you see when you start up the game, or view the video on the Steam Store page. Which implies the status of co-creator.

THAT is how powerful her musical talent is, and how much so Matt recognizes this. (Well, at least that's what I personally read into it.)

If you've heard the music ingame, you shouldn't even need to read this to know whether it's worth your while, of course. So I dunno what else to say.
